

Prospects of cooperation b/w Japan-Russia ; utilization of natural gas as an example

Akihiro Yokochi

Senior Fellow

Economic Research Institute for Northeast Asia
(ERINA)

Economic Research Institute for Northeast Asia, Energy Dialogue
in Khabarovsk

2010/5/21

1

Perspective (from Niigata and Khabarovsk)

Gateway to

- Transportation
- Technology contact
- Cooperation

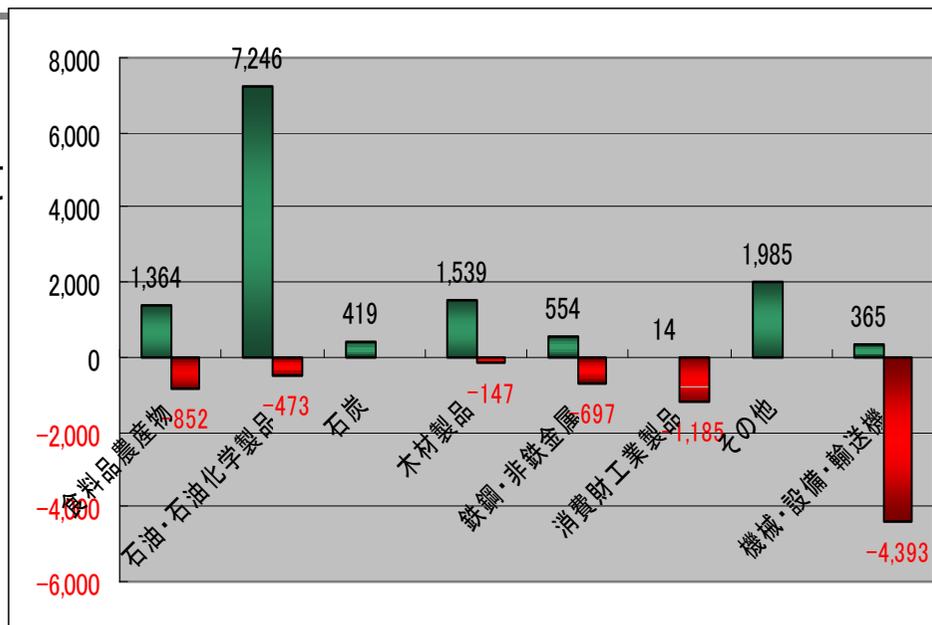

Economic Research Institute for
Northeast Asia, Energy Dialogue
in Khabarovsk

2010/5/21

2

Current state

- Imbalance of the import/export in Russian Far East
- Industries overseas in Niigata Pref.

Russian Far East

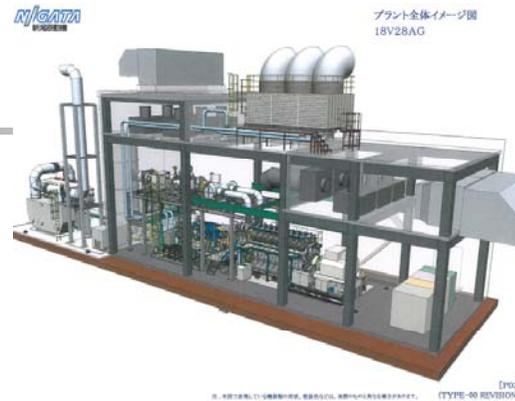

Economic Research Institute for
Northeast Asia, Energy Dialogue
in Khabarovsk

2010/5/21

3

Energy industry trends and objectives

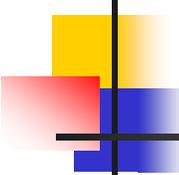

- Regional power
- Industrial power and SMEs
- Systems and management software
- High value-added products
- Marketing and financial potential

Economic Research Institute for
Northeast Asia, Energy Dialogue
in Khabarovsk

2010/5/21

4

Future activities direction (in the case of natural gas)

- Providing a comfortable living environment
- Saving a gas consumption
- Studying a domestic and international market of gas chemicals
- Nominating and selecting items to be growing, and Performing an industry-academia-government collaboration